

PIXAR

Rules :

- 1.1. Participants must adhere to the event theme. Clearly communicate the theme or narrative concept that the photographs should convey.
- 1.2. Establish a specific deadline for photo submissions. Late entries may not be considered to maintain fairness.
- 1.3. All submitted photographs must be original work created by the participants. Plagiarism or the use of stock images without proper attribution is strictly prohibited.
- 1.4. Specify the maximum number of entries allowed per participant to ensure a balanced competition. This helps prevent an overwhelming number of submissions from a single participant.
- 1.5. Clearly outline technical specifications for the photographs, such as file format, resolution, and any other specific requirements for submission.
- 1.6. Participants should provide a brief caption or description for each photograph, explaining how it contributes to the overall storytelling theme.
- 1.7. Set clear guidelines regarding the content of the photographs to ensure appropriateness and adherence to any ethical or cultural considerations.
- 1.8. Clearly define the judging criteria, which may include creativity, storytelling effectiveness, composition, technical skill, and adherence to the theme.
- 1.9. Specify any limitations on post-processing or image manipulation. Clearly state whether heavy editing, filters, or alterations are allowed or restricted.
- 1.10. Clearly communicate the rights and usage terms associated with the submitted photographs. Ensure that participants understand whether the organizers have the right to use the images for promotional purposes.
- 1.11. Clearly define who is eligible to participate. This could include students, faculty, or any specific groups within the college community.
- 1.12. Clearly outline reasons for disqualification, such as violation of rules, submission of inappropriate content, or failure to meet technical requirements.
- 1.13. Consider organizing a feedback session with the judges to provide participants with constructive criticism and insights into their work.
- 1.14. Clearly list the prizes or recognitions that winners will receive. This could include certificates, trophies, or opportunities for further exposure.
- 1.15. Ensure transparency in the judging process. If possible, provide participants with information about the judging panel and the criteria used.
